

Privacy policy

- The IBEST respects the privacy of its members and aims to act consistently with the Data Protection Act 1998 and other regulations. IBEST will use data contained on you for administrative purposes, to keep you informed of activities, and to offer goods and services provided by the Institution.
- Personal information is information or opinion that allows others to identify you. It includes your name, age, gender and contact details. It is the express wish of the IBEST that information relating to members is available only to the IBEST and not for direct access by third parties unless you have given written permission by email or other forms.
- IBEST's policy is not to disclose any personal Information to any unrelated third party, except where you have given your express consent for us to do so or where required by law.
- If you tell us that you do not wish us to use your Personal Information for a particular purpose, we will not do so.
- You can seek access to the personal information we hold about you, by contacting us. If the information we hold about you is inaccurate, incomplete, or outdated, please inform us so that we can correct it.
- If you wish to be removed from any of our mailing lists, please contact: info@theibest.org
